

— MACKENZIE — FURY OF NAZI ATTACK SOON MAY SUBSIDE

Expert Doubts German
Offensive Will Sweep
On Without Halt

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Germans continued to thrust forward this morning on the southern end of the great Belgian battle-line, having crossed the Meuse river at three points between the famous fortress of Namur and Sedan, but they were encountering strong opposition and the allied reports indicated that they were holding well at other points.

The allies gain considerable satisfaction from the present position in the view of the fact that the initial fury of the German offensive hasn't yet been spent. A few hours more and it should begin to wane—and then we shall see what the Anglo-French-Belgian fraternity has in store.

owing to the turmoil of this mammoth conflict, but the battle seems to be developing along two main lines—(1) an effort to drive right through the heart of Belgium to the channel ports so as to be able to get at England, and (2) a turning operation in which the nazis are trying to cut through the allied line at Sedan and roll it back both ways, a highly dangerous undertaking.

Primary Objective
It still seems to me that the first of these movements—the drive to the coast—is the paramount objective of the Germans. The smashing of the allied blockade and England herself depends on that.

Poor Brussels, from which King Leopold today broadcast encouragement to his men in the fortifications of Liege, not only lies in the line of the northern drive but the nazis have threatened to bomb the city unless troop movements through the capital are suspended.

That will be tough, but Brussels will be able to take it. She endured four years of occupation during the World war, and I've seen the invaders butchering cattle in a main boulevard for their army kitchens.

Like a lot of other folk I went to bed last night with the knowledge that morning might show a German invasion of Switzerland. The Swiss have plenty of justification for standing at arms in fear of a German invasion.

The main object of such an assault would be to use this neutral country in an effort to outflank the French right-wing in the Maginot line, which terminates close to the Swiss frontier.

Such an operation, if the Germans could be assured of subduing the Swiss quickly, might prove valuable support for the nazis offensive through the low countries. I should say that such a move would depend on the success of the low country battle.

If the nazis should make a big break through the line at Sedan, they might strike in the far south.

Mussolini Prepared.
We should not overlook, either, that an assault on Switzerland might signal the entrance of Italy into the war on the Hitlerian side. I'm not predicting that Mussolini is ready to get into the conflict yet, but it is well to recognize the possibility.

It would indeed seem that there is nothing which succeeds like success. Judging from the way Allied stock takes a tumble among some misanthropes in the country every time the nazis steam-roller another defenseless foe, well, after all, what should anyone expect?

Here Hitler has been preparing for war for seven years. He has given this program everything he personally had and everything the Reich had, until he has created what is perhaps the most perfect military machine ever constructed. It would indeed be strange if such a machine didn't win victories, and still more victories.

But as somebody has remarked, it's the fellow who wins the last battle who wins the war. We shouldn't be too hasty in picking the winner of the present conflict because a lot of things can happen before the white flag goes up. The Kaiser's armies had the allies all but beaten several times during the World war, but the Anglo-French brotherhood seems to be in fairly good health yet.

Ruggles Still Hopes to Make Nebraska Film

Undaunted by Dr. A. E. Sheldon's criticism of the way Hollywood films historical pictures, Director Wesley Ruggles has informed the Nebraska State Historical society head he is still interested in putting a Nebraska story on the screen.

Ruggles explained he had asked his research department to gather further material about Nebraska. In about eight weeks, he said, he would review the findings of the research staff and write Dr. Sheldon again.

When the director first contacted Nebraska officials, asking information which might be turned into a movie story, Dr. Sheldon replied Nebraska had plenty of material but that he wouldn't be in too much of a hurry to co-operate until assured the facts would not be distorted.

U. S. Defense Steps Urged In Talks At Farley Post Session

"America must be the treasure trove of civilization," Loren H. Laughlin told members of C. A. Farley post, No. 1450 V. F. W., and auxiliary in an address urging U. S. preparedness Wednesday evening.

A second speaker was H. J. Swan of the U. S. forest service. Mr. Swan is a first generation Norwegian and in a talk prefacing a sound film, "Trees Tame the Wind," he urged that America mobilize every resource.

"Don't make the mistake Norway made," Mr. Swan said. "Be secure within yourself. Conserve your forests, your water resources, minerals, fuels and everything at your command."

The film shown by Mr. Swan depicted five years of progress through shelter-belt plantings.

In his address, Mr. Laughlin praised President Roosevelt's vision in correcting the lack of military and naval preparedness. He called him "the most far-sighted president of our time."

"It is our duty now, to at any cost, prepare for the defense of our homes, our religion and our civilization," he declared. "If we do not defend these things here they cannot be defended anywhere."

The Lincoln Civic orchestra entertained. John Shilneck directing. Vocal selections were sung by Gordon Starr and Opal Ray. The post met at I. O. O. F. hall.

Tyson, engineer, plan to attend.

William Lloyd Garrison, the abolitionist at one time, was editor of the National Philanthropist, the first paper published in America for the promotion of total abstinence from liquor.

C. G. Runyan was re-elected president of the Lincoln Typographical union, No. 209, in the annual election Wednesday at the Laehr temple.

William Heuser and Walter Griffin were elected to the executive committee, and Frank Mills and Runyan were named delegates to the International Typographical union convention in New Orleans.

William Heuser and Alex Schneider are alternates.

Four members elected to the scale committee are Charles Spence, Harry E. Graves, John Kistler, and William Heuser. K. P. Lewis, V. F. Rockey and Alex Schneider were named on the auditing committee, and K. P. Lewis, Clarence Dvorak and Minnie Leigh delegates to the Allied Trades council.

Delegates to the Central Labor union are I. S. Betzer, Victor Groth, and C. G. Runyan. William Reger was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Members also voted on officers of the International Typographical union. The result on the presidency was: Claude M. Baker, San Francisco, 23; Francis G. Barrett, New York, 74.

Wheat In Parts Of State Is Promising

... L. K. Smith Reports

Wheat in western and eastern Nebraska is generally in promising condition, according to LeRoy K. Smith, manager of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation who has just completed a 3-day inspection tour of the state.

Smith visited wheat fields and conferred with farmers in all sections. Fred S. Wallace of Gibbon state A.A. chairman, and C. E. Holmes of Loretto, AAA crop insurance supervisor for Nebraska, accompanied him.

Smith said farmers in central and south-central Nebraska will make heaviest withdrawals from the premium reserves stored by crop insurance policy holders for protection against partial and complete wheat failures.

Adjustment work in areas where insured growers have suffered losses is progressing nicely. Smith declared, Nebraska has 57,240 wheat growers and land lords protected by crop insurance.

PREMATURE FOURTH OF JULY ...

Three Youths Admit They Tossed Giant Fire Crackers Which Made So Much Noise In South Lincoln

The source of a series of explosions which bewildered residents in the south part of Lincoln Wednesday night was believed solved after police questioned a youth who admitted that he and two others had tossed a number of giant fire crackers from a car as they drove along. Donald Buis, 18, 2824 Q, driver of the car, readily admitted to Captain Joseph T. Carroll his part in the prank. He also implicated Russell Jurgens, 17, 2210

W. and Vern Heckman, 17, 3039 W. The bursting crackers prompted a flood of inquiries from startled residents, and it was estimated that several hundred calls were received over newspaper and police station switch-boards. Many Ideas.

A number declared hearing a blast which shook their houses. Others inquired as to the source of "all the shooting," and a small girl wanted to know if a filling station had blown up. Credit for the solution of the disturbance goes to J. A. McCoy, 1445 Burr, who obtained the license number of the car in which the trio was riding. After hearing an explosion, he hopped in his car, and after driving a ways, spotted the youths at Fourteenth and South streets. He said he followed their car to Twenty-seventh and O streets, where he was forced to wait for the signal light, losing the other machine.

Good Will Trip To Northeast Nebraska Set For June 4 and 5

Milton Anderson, chairman of the chamber of commerce's good will trip committee, announced Thursday that the chamber will sponsor a trip to northeast Nebraska, probably June 4 and 5.

MANY CHOICE FOODS OFFERED

A Strawberry-Chocolate Combination Is New Sandwich Idea

We are assured that Luli Deste, of the moon pitchers, favors this sandwich above all others. Since it is particularly seasonable and the grocers have the ingredients, we pass it on, hoping you'll like it. Miss Deste prepares the sandwich of sliced strawberries embedded in melted bitter chocolate spread on buttered rye bread.

Minced ham prepared with mayonnaise and a whiff of mustard (or the new horseradish spread) is delicious on hot biscuits. The stores have an interesting variety of cheeses, which always meet with approval for a midnight snack, but walnuts and green peppers minced added to cream cheese mean a delectable filling for sandwiches.

While on the subject of cheese, did you know you can buy macaroni and cheese prepared for the oven, with only seven minutes baking required? Lincoln grocers also have cheese shoestring potatoes, which, heated and served with deviled ham and a cucumber and tomato salad with tart dressing makes a quick, simple, and inviting supper. If the family doesn't favor cheese, French fries can be substituted and they save a lot of trouble over the ordinary home fixing. Mushroom sauce for spaghetti adds a zest to the bland flavor.

Good Lemonade.

When we first turned our attention to this column, the thermometer was pushing 100. Trusting that something similar will have taken place by the time it appears, we mention lemons for your attention. A pitcher of old-fashioned lemonade in the ice box on a torrid day wins even sophisticated; when one of the several juices, pineapple, loganberry, grape, is added, the variety is welcome. Don't forget that lemon slices, set off by a little sprinkling of parsley or chives, are the cherries on a platter of cold salmon or tuna. Lemon ice isn't a bit hard to make at home and is deliciously inviting for the evening you have leftovers on the meat course.

This is an old combination, but excellent as the good old days. Chilled bananas, oranges, and shredded coconut served in crystal cups is easy to prepare on a hot night. Strawberries are the first in the summer procession of berries, so don't forget to start now and to continue to serve them with the dry breakfast foods these warm mornings. Maple sugar sometimes means the one who ordinarily refuses cereal will go for it in a big way. Cantaloupe is getting better and better. The fruit, sliced and centered with an ice, goes well for the dinner dessert, likewise.

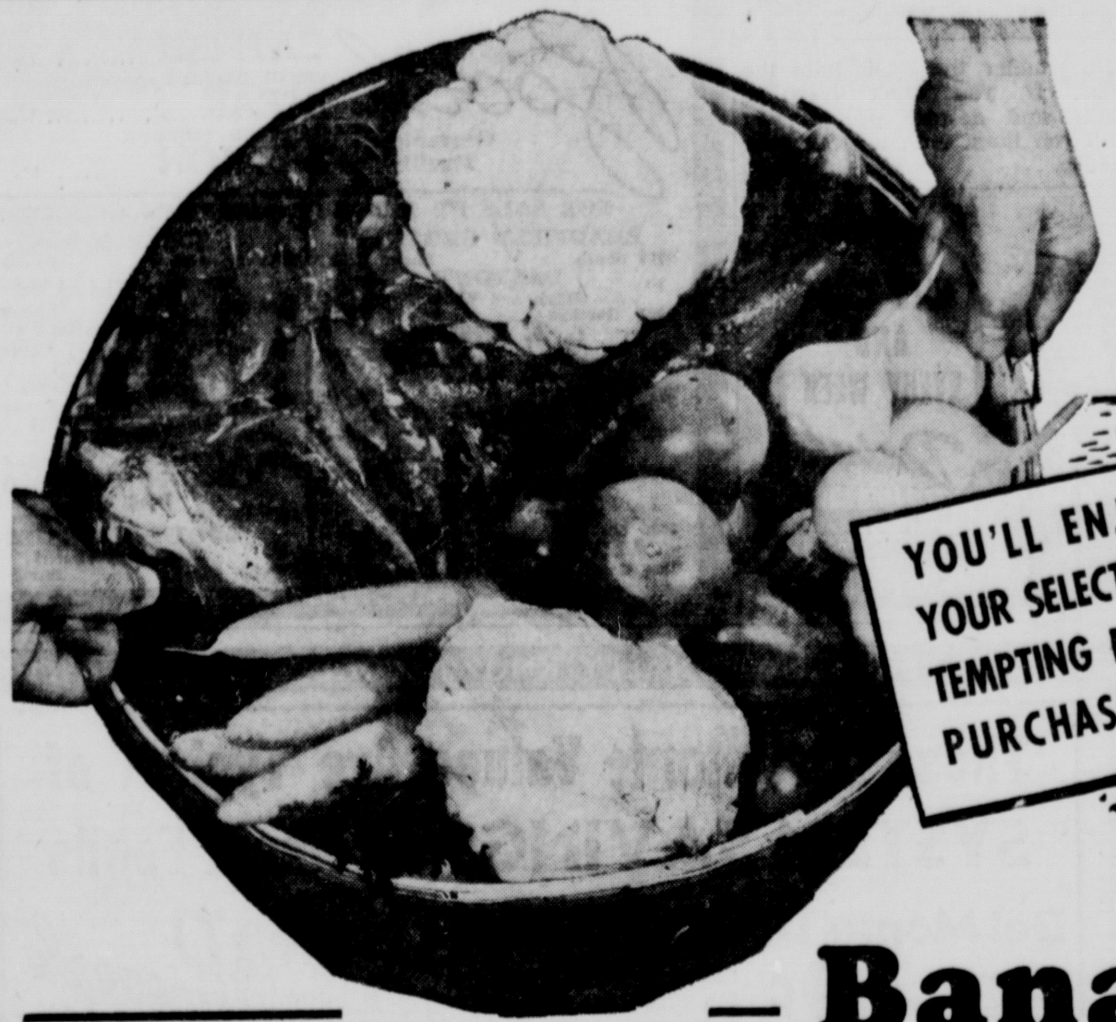

Waffles, once relegated to the breakfast table, are coming up in society. They are superior substitutes for toast with creamed chicken. Another departure is to fill half the little hollow squares with whipped cream and the remainder with crab or currant jelly. Add a salad bowl of watercress, tomatoes, cucumbers, and green onions (if the bowl is rubbed with garlic, you can omit the lowly onion, black coffee, cheese and crackers—and watch the guests play a return engagement.

Here Again.

Broilers are here again. Mashed potatoes, hot biscuits, again out of a can (don't forget the potatoes also come in tins), new peas just follow right along in line. If you haven't time to prepare Hollandaise sauce for the broccoli, cook and cool it, and serve with French dressing. Yum! To make a cheese soufflé is an art, but if you're a genius, try making individual numbers in greased muffin rings. It's the season for gelatin specialties again, which, with the variety of flavors and the possible fruits for combination, make desserts a colorful pleasure for now and again and with the results, infinite. Potato salad, chilled in the can, opened, is ready for serving. Honey dew melons are in the market, which takes us right back to don't-forget-the-lemon slogan.

Even though corn on the cob is available in cans, many persons enjoy old-fashioned dried corn and it's pretty fine at that. Fresh cocoanut is the last word in "piecing" and, grated, is delectable as topping for cream pie, or with raisin cookies. Don't forget that a pleasant change this time of year is new egg plant, sliced thin, dipped, and fried in deep fat. Tomatoes are turning most succulent and if you are in a hurry, lend themselves to a dozen quick methods of preparation.

Fire losses in the U. S. during 1939 amounted nearly to $320,000,000.

Endowment and Home Reports

Committees Review Years Work at Closing O.E.S. Business Session

Reports of officers and committees highlighted the final day's meetings of the 65th annual session of the grand chapter of Nebraska of the Order of Eastern Star Thursday at the state fair 4-H building.

Ruby E. Coggins, past grand matron, reporting on the international Eastern Star Temple endowment fund, stated that there was a growing interest in the fund. She said that the fund continued to receive the loyal support of the members.

John R. Tapster, president of the home board trustees and newly named associate grand patron, reported on the Masonic Eastern Star home for children in Fremont, and said that conditions there remained almost the same as last year, except there are fewer children in the home.

Eight Graduates
He was proud to report that eight of the children are graduating from Fremont high school this year, the largest number ever to graduate at one time. Mr. Tapster reported that 62,120 meals were served, including meat, poultry, eggs and milk grown on the home farm.

The children of the home presented a program in the afternoon, under the direction of Elmer J. Hartmann, superintendent of the home.

Other reports were given by Margaret Hogan on the traveling gavel, Grace Anness on fraternal correspondence, and the charters and dispensations, mileage, appeals and grievances, jurisprudence, examination of visitors, codification of law, finance, and court committees.

Ellen M. Fetterman and William H. Brokaw opened the morning meeting and Ruby E. Coggins and Edward J. Millie, the afternoon session.

A luncheon for grand representatives of the group was held at noon at the Cornhusker hotel, with 30 present. Ella Cochran and Edna Morris were in charge of arrangements.

FARM OWNERSHIP PUZZLE DISCOVERED

State Fire Marshal Davis and his staff members Thursday were trying to figure out just what the Platte river has to do with farm ownership.

Davis explained records of his department on rural electrification users show that in general far more electric users north of the river own their farms, compared with the users on farms south of the river. The principal exception north of the river, Davis said, is Cedar county.

ACCIDENT TOTALS IN LINCOLN FAR AHEAD OF RECORD OF 1939

Figures compiled by the Lincoln police traffic division for the first four months of this year indicate that at the present rate, the year's total accidents will be considerably greater than in 1939. During the first quarter of 1940 943 were reported as against 725 for the same period in 1939.

There were 869 motor vehicle accidents during the quarterly period, 33 involving pedestrians, 18 bicyclists, and 9 collisions with street cars. Fewer persons were injured this year, 52 as compared with 61 a year ago. Both years three fatalities occurred during the fourth month stretch. This year all three fatalities resulted from a train striking an automobile, while last year two motorists were killed and one motorist drove his car off the highway.

The records disclose that most accidents happen between 5 and 6 p. m., and that Saturday has the greatest single day total. Male drivers involved outnumber females 1,395 to 365. There were 13 drunken drivers involved in accidents.

STUDENT PILOT FROM TURKEY ADDRESSES LINCOLN OPTIMISTS

Featuring an airplane program presented for members of the Optimist club Thursday noon was a talk by Shahan Peter Kaprielian of Turkey, young university graduate who came to the U. S. in March to learn aviation.

He said that when he left home his country was not alarmed over the possibility of the war spreading in that direction, but that Turkey was taking an active interest in aviation expansion—a development relatively new there. A great number of planes have been purchased in the U. S., he said.

William H. McHale of Kansas City, district governor, and Calude McCammet of Topeka, district secretary, spoke briefly. Others on the program were C. N. Saffill of the Lincoln Flying school and Evelyn Sharp, the state's first aviatrix. McHale discussed young people's work and praised the boys' state and girls' state activities in Nebraska.

Cookery Is An Art Indeed

You know, there is an art to cookery—You can be a natural as a cook, or, you think, you can acquire the talent—Anyway, what with the stoves with all of the fancy gadgets, and good recipes, you can't miss very far—provided, of course, you follow the recipe to the letter—Now take chicken a la king—it can be delicious, or it can be terrible—if you use this recipe it will be the former:

CHICKEN A LA KING

2 cups cold diced chicken
1 onion
3 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups milk
2 egg yolks
Cook the shredded green pepper and mushrooms in 3 tablespoons butter 5 minutes. Add grated onion, flour (thin paste), 1 1/2 cups milk, salt and paprika to taste.

1 green pepper
3 or 4 mushrooms
2 tablespoons flour
2 egg whites
3 tablespoons chopped pimiento
Add the chicken, pimiento, bring to boiling point, add 1/2 cup cream with 2 eggs beaten in it. Cook about 5 minutes. Serve on buttered toast.

A cool, refreshing dessert is in order these days—and we have just what you have been looking for and never found—until now—grapefruit with creme de menthe ice—Sounds luscious, doesn't it?—and it is. Here is what you do:

GRAPEFRUIT WITH CREME DE MENTHE ICE

INGREDIENTS

2 grapefruit
1 c. granulated sugar
1 1/2 c. water
1/2 tsp. plain unflavored gelatin

METHOD OF PREPARATION

Wash grapefruit, cut in halves crosswise. Loosen flesh sections and remove seeds, cores, and seeds. Chill. Boil sugar and water for 5 minutes. Sprinkle gelatin over the lemon juice, add to the hot mixture, and stir until dissolved. Cool and add enough green coloring to tint a delicate green. Turn into tray of an automatic refrigerator, with the control at the coldest setting and freeze until mushlike in consistency. Fold in egg whites, beaten stiff, and the creme de menthe. Return to the refrigerator and freeze for 30 min. Beat lightly with fork, then return to the refrigerator and freeze until set. In serving, fill hollow of each grapefruit with some of the ice. Serves 4.

CENSUS CONTEST GUESSES GO AS HIGH AS 100,000

Census guesses on the capital city's population are ranging all the way from 82,328 to 100,000 in the Lincoln Newspapers' contest.

The lowest figure submitted thus far is one of 82,328 submitted by a Callaway resident. Those who made the two highest guesses commented as follows:

"Lincoln has grown considerably since 1930. I'd say the population is very nearly 100,000."

"With the foregoing two exceptions, all other guesses are confined to totals between 80,000 and 90,000. Several prophecies are in the 86,000 classification and a number of others are in the 83,000 bracket."

Out-of-town residents are showing as much interest in the competition as citizens of Lincoln proper.

Americanism: Tolerating fire traps because changes would cost too much; howling for safer buildings and more fire escapes after paying for the funerals.

HAVE a number of interesting things to tell today—Heard of some guests from here and there who are spending some time in Lincoln—Found a luncheon today—and a dinner for Friday evening—Hear that the list of reservations for the formal opening at the Lincoln Country club Saturday evening is growing, but so far we have no one down on the dotted line—

But about our guests—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Nix of Los Angeles, arrived in town today en route to their home from Washington, D. C. They arrived today to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. John Grainger, and began their social whirl almost immediately—at least Mrs. Nix did, for she was included in the sixsome luncheon for which Mrs. Walter White was hostess today at her home. Other out of town guests at the luncheon included Mrs. Maynard Buchanan as host and hostess, and her house guest, Mrs. Oliver W. Hughes of Ft. Leavenworth, Kas. Mrs. Hughes, by the way, will be leaving Ft. Leavenworth soon, with Captain Hughes, for Vancouver Barracks where Captain Hughes has been detailed.

THE DINNER we mentioned for Friday evening will have Mr. and Mrs. J. John Grainger as host and hostess—and is to be a most informal affair at their home, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Nix. Eight guests have been invited.

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. John Pollock of Chicago, who is visiting Mrs. Jesse Thurmond in Omaha this week, was in Lincoln for a short while today spending her time with friends. Mrs. Pollock, in case you have forgotten, was formerly Miss Catherine Goss, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Charles Goss.

ARRIVING Wednesday from Armour, S. D., to spend several weeks in Lincoln was Mrs. C. E. Floete, who is the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Floete.

AND SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Max Foreman (Virginia Sartor) and her two daughters, Sarah and Susan, of Mankato, Minn., are spending a month with Mrs. Foreman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sartor.

IN TOWN last week-end—the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adams, were Mr. and Mrs. James DeVol and their two daughters, Mary and Betsy, of Council Bluffs.

Soil Moisture Deepest In Southeast

Average In State Improves

Federal Report Shows Condition Still Under Normal In Nebraska

Though Nebraska's soil moisture condition this spring is much improved over last fall and compares favorably with a year ago, it is still below normal and some sections are suffering from acute dryness, A. E. Anderson, state and federal crop statistician, reported Thursday.

"Practically all fields tested this spring had some moisture but last fall nearly 32 per cent of the fields showed no moisture," he said. "The degree of soil moisture saturation is much improved over last fall and somewhat better than last spring, even though the average depth is not as great as a year ago."

Tests made during the last week of April and the first of May, Anderson reported, showed an average soil moisture depth of 30.5 inches compared with 22 last fall and 32.6 last spring. These averages were computed with tests from all parts of the state, save the northeast and north central portions. In no instances were measurements taken below four feet though moisture in favored spots went deeper than that.

Lightest In South Central

"The depth of soil moisture was greatest in the southeastern district where it averaged 39.4 inches, and lightest in the south central which averaged 16.5. Last fall moisture measurements showed depths of 33.1 and 10.5 inches, respectively, for these two districts," the statistician declared.

"A survey of the depth of soil moisture in fields planted or to be planted to crops other than wheat was made for the first time this spring," he continued. "The average depth of moisture in all crop fields was 29.3 inches. Land to be used for corn and sorghums showed 29.4 inches; fields planted to oats, 28.6; barley 19.9, and other fields, which include some irrigated crops, 31.4 inches."

Comparisons of depth of moisture in winter fields by districts:

District	1940	1939	1938	1937
Northwest	31.6	22.8	32.6	35.3
Central	24.9	13.9	31.6	23.4
East Central	33.3	21.6	35.7	31.8
Southwest	27.5	20.9	24.3	26.9
South Central	16.5	10.5	23.1	20.7
Southeast	39.4	33.1	40.9	37.8
State	30.5	22.0	32.6	30.4

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., May 16 (AP)—Police Chief James Hedge said Thursday that Paul James Craig, 30, Davenport, Ia., confessed to attempting to pass a forged check because of a desire to obtain funds to take his bride-to-be on a honeymoon trip.

Hedge said Craig told him he attempted to cash the check at a grocery store after he learned money from his father, a western Nebraska farmer, would not be available.

Craig's bride-to-be, Sarah Elizabeth Kendall, 35, Rock Island, Ill., was detained with Craig, Chief Hedge said. Craig said his father had promised him the money on which to be married and make the trip, Hedge related.

Sugar Beet Equipment Expansion Program In West Nebraska Starts

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., May 16 (AP)—J. R. Mason, Nebraska district manager of the Great Western Sugar company, announced Thursday a beet dump improvement program costing between $30,000 and $35,000.

A move to bring dumps and piling stations up to the most modern standard, begun several years ago, will be nearly completed when the present work is finished, Mason said.

At Alliance, where the company has never before needed dump equipment, a power dump and truck scale will be installed. A small experimental beet acreage in the Alliance region has brought successful growing results in the past two years and this year, spurred by the advent of pump irrigation, a greatly increased acreage of the sugar crop is expected.

CENSUS TROUBLE

OMAHA, May 16 (AP)—Bridge playing women in the western part of Omaha who "won't stay home" are slowing the census here, District Supervisor W. S. Stryker said Thursday. A preliminary report probably won't be issued until next week.

He contrasted the west Omaha situation with the most heavily populated area—South Omaha—where census takers several days ago. "It's because not so many women there play bridge," he ventured.

Custer Leading PFL Enrollment

... Total Now 1,600

More than 1,600 Nebraska farmers and ranchers have now officially enrolled as cooperators in the 1940 state pasture-forage-livestock program, it was announced today from the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. The total probably will reach 2,000 when all entries are received.

The 1940 enrollment, as a result, is expected to hit an all time record. Last year 1,500 producers were enrolled and the program started out with a handful of interested farmers six years ago as a pasture contest.

A. H. Maunier, chairman of the state P-F-L committee at the college of agriculture, said county agricultural agents who are in charge locally still had some names to submit as entries. In the preliminary enrollment announced today, the most cooperators were found in Custer county with 64 farmers. Other high ranking counties in numbers included Hall, Dawson, Box Butte, Madison, Clay and Nuckolls.

The pioneers of yesterday, who developed a barren prairie into productive farming and cattle country, will have their own program. District Judge C. G. Perry will present awards to the registered pioneers who have lived longest in "Old Cheyenne country," of which Morrill county was once a part, along with Scotts Bluff county.

The celebration takes its name from a settlement which sprang up near here, at one end of the first bridge ever built across the North Platte river.

Nebraska Nearing Top In Irrigated Acreage In U.S.; Million Acres In Prospect

When all prospective irrigation projects in Nebraska are completed, the state may have as many as a million acres under water treatment, Ivan D. Wood, Nebraska agricultural college extension engineer, said Thursday. This would place Nebraska well toward the top in acreage among irrigation states. Since 1915 there has been an increasing interest in this method of crop production and the latest actual figures show that in 1937 there were 481,769 acres under gravity type and 72,962 acres under pump irrigation.

Discussing irrigation in general, Wood declared: "Probably the greatest good which comes from irrigation is difficult to measure in dollars and cents. It is stability of farm income and security."

"The man on an irrigated farm may not have a greater net income than that of the dry land farmer in favorable years but his chances of a steady income are much greater. Great economic loss has resulted in the state in dry land areas due to the inability of farmers to retain the livestock in dry years owing to feed shortage."

The irrigation expert pointed out, however, such projects have not been universally successful. "It should be remembered," he added, "that irrigation is paid for by the individual farmer and on his success or failure depends the success or failure of irrigation as an institution."

"But the benefits from irrigation are well known to all. Yields of corn at the North Platte experiment station on dry land have averaged about 19 bushels per acre while irrigated corn has averaged nearly 40 bushels more."

3 Serious Drouths. Since the state has been settled, three serious drouths, each of several years' duration, have occurred. One was in the '60's, one in the '90's and the other is on now.

"The effects of the present drouth are too well known to be enumerated," Wood commented. "There has been an endless procession of mortgage foreclosures, families moving from drouth-ridden areas."

TORCHLIGHT PARADE WILL HONOR GRACIE

OMAHA, May 16 (AP)—To-night Omaha carries the torch for Gracie Allen.

Or, to put it more accurately, Omaha will carry hundreds of torches in an old-fashioned political parade boosting the radio and film comedienne's candidacy for president on the surprise party ticket.

A military parade was held Thursday morning for visitors to Omaha's Golden Spike days celebration, with the night parade the evening feature.

Gracie and Mayor Dan Butler entertained crowds at Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum Wednesday night, where the mayor fed fags to Miss Allen in a rather informal, bewildering "fireside chat."

OMAHA, May 16 (AP)—Physically safe but mentally distressed described the condition Thursday of George Alders, 37, Dutch salesman here on business. Alders read with a fatalistic shrug the news that Holland had surrendered.

"Outnumbered, what could they do?" he asked. But he admitted to worry about his mother, sisters and brothers, scattered through war torn Holland. He represents a bulb growing concern.

NEBRASKA GUARD TO JOIN IN BIG ARMY MANEUVERS

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Army officials estimated Thursday that approximately 37,000 regular army and national guard troops will concentrate at Camp Ripley, Minn., this summer in connection with maneuvers of the fourth army.

Split into two groups because of the great distances involved, another group of about 42,000 troops in the fourth army will be mobilized at Fort Lewis, Wash. The Minnesota camp, scheduled for "sometime in August," will attract regulars and guardsmen of the seventh corps area, comprising North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Arkansas. Commanding this group will be Major General P. P. Bishop of the seventh corps at Omaha, Neb.

SCIENTIFIC tests have confirmed it, but you can tell just by smoking Camels that they are slower-burning. You'll find Camels free from the excess heat and irritating qualities of too-fast burning...extra mild and extra cool. You'll find a full, rich flavor that only Camel's matchless blend and slower way of burning can give. And on top of the extra pleasure, you'll find Camels also give extra smoking (see right).

Finn Phenom Has Bad Heart

LOS ANGELES, May 16—(INS)—Taisto Maki, Finland's world champion distance runner, has a "heart murmur" and may not run again, it was learned today. The little Finn, in Los Angeles to race in a Finnish benefit performance tomorrow night, will be given another cardiac examination at conclusion of a tune-up race this morning.

TAISTO MAKI.

Yesterday, he was examined by an eminent Los Angeles physician whose name was withheld by request and the verdict was that Maki's heart condition is "grave." There was, the physician said, a decided murmur.

4 IN RACE FOR BIG SIX TITLE

Huskers' Hopes Disputed By Sooners, Tigers And Kaggies.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN.

KANSAS CITY, May 16—(AP)—Performances of the "cripples," Herb Grote of Nebraska, Marshall Reeves of Missouri and Jack Morris of Oklahoma could send the Big Six track title—up for decision Saturday at Lincoln—in any of four directions.

Nebraska, defending champion and winner of the 1940 indoor title, is favored in the meet on its own field tomorrow and Saturday, but Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas State can't be ignored.

Reeves runs Swift 880. Grote, one of the many Husker sophomores, has been tossing the javelin 200 feet or better. Illness the past week may cut down his distance enough to permit Bob Waldram, Missouri southpaw, to slip into first place.

Reeves ran the day's outstanding race at the Kansas relays. He was injured a few days later and the stubby little half-mile runner returned to competition last weekend. He spun his pet distance in 1:55 for a Missouri-Kansas dual record.

Sooners Dangerous.

Morris underwent an appendectomy late in the spring. He's been working out the past two weeks and if he performs anywhere near his usual self in the hurdles and sprints, Coach John Jacobs' Sooners will be downright dangerous. The Huskers will rely on an all-around squad to retain the title. In addition to Reeves, Missouri has John Munksi in the mile and sure point winners in the javelin, broad jump and pole vault.

Oklahoma's strength is concentrated in the shorter races and the consistent Ray Gahan in the middle distances. Kansas State has Elmer Hackney making his last bid in the shot put, with Thaine High in the two-mile and Darold Dodge in the hurdles.

Schnacke the Mainstay. Iowa State's hero is Dick Schnacke, defending champion in the high jump. He is entered in five events and if he is not worn out by the time of 6 feet, 3 3/4 inches established by William Newblock of Oklahoma in 1933.

Kansas, with more than a score of candidates on the sidelines with scholastic troubles, isn't expected to cut too heavily into the scoring. Glenn Foy, a hurdler, and J. R. Jones, broad jumper, loom as the Jayhawkers' best.

Tennis and golf titles will be decided Saturday on the Nebraska facilities. Oklahoma appears to be the best on the links, with the net crown going to the Sooners, Nebraska or Missouri.

MANHATTAN, Kas., May 16—Kansas State was out-hit 12 to 8 but took advantage of eight Kansas errors to win an 11-4 Big Six baseball victory yesterday. Score: Kansas, 0-0-0-0-1-0-2-1-4-12-8; Kansas State, 0-0-0-2-5-0-1-3-11-8-3. Burge and Merkel; Brock and Marshall.

Nebraska's "Big Six" Foes Suspiciously Willing to Concede Title to Scarlet.

By DON KELLOGG.

WHAT the University of Nebraska track and field athletes do in the field events—the weights especially, where they've always been strong—holds the key to their ambition to retain the Big Six track and field title this week.

Critics Quick On Trigger.

After Coach Ed Weir's Cornhuskers, with sophomores in the leading roles, succeeded in nabbing the conference indoor title last March, dopsters in the circle got out paper and pencil and in a short time had practically conceded the Huskers the outdoor affair.

What with Nebraska's power in the discus and javelin events, the critics merely assumed the Cornhuskers as a "shoo-in." Well, that's not the case.

Last year at Ames, the scarlet-jerseyed boys knocked off 11 sweet points in the discus. Then, George "Bus" Knight, with only a few weeks of practice, came along to win the javelin.

Best Mark By Shirk.

But let's look at the picture now. Edsel Wibbels, the Big Six discus titleholder, has been far below par this season. John Shirk the footballer from Oklahoma, has the best mark in the platter slinging contest to date with a mighty heave of over 152 feet.

Now Wibbels and his sidekick, Ray Prochaska, have sailed the discus out farther than anyone has suspected them of doing—but it has only been in practice.

And in the javelin, Nebraska's ace, Herb Grote, is coming back slowly after an attack of influenza and may not be up to par. At that Missouri's Bob Waldram, with a heave of 206 feet, 5 inches, has the best toss in Big Six circles. Grote is only two feet behind, and Wibbels takes over the next spot with a throw of 195-11 1/2.

Hackney Has Clinch. Kansas State's Elmer Hackney must be conceded the shot put contest, as his efforts have exceeded the others by some five feet.

Again, Nebraska's Wibbels is in second place with a put of something over 47 feet, but Oklahoma's By Potter, Missouri's Myron Council and a few other lads, along with Hackney's team mate, Raymond Prochaska, Vanderbilt, may have something to say about this.

Thus far in the pole vault department, Higgins of Missouri and Husker Harold Hunt stand head and shoulders above the field. Both are sophomores and both have cleared 13 feet, 8 inches. With the record only an eighth of an inch away, a new standard might be in the making. Other vaulters likely to qualify for consideration include Harry Fender of Oklahoma, who has sailed over 13-3, and O'Hara of Kansas, who has cleared 12-9.

Sol Schumitzky of Missouri might find a little trouble in retaining his broad jump crown. The Tiger's best leap this year measured 22-5 1/2, while Jones of Kansas, who won the indoor title, has done 22-9.

Smutz and Littler.

Should Coach Weir allow Bill Smutz and Eugene Littler to enter the jumping festivities, the Huskers may pick up some points. Each are capable of nudging over the 23-foot mark, although they have been so active in other events that their energy and time has been limited.

D. Schnacke, Iowa State's fine leaper, appears to have the high jump all sewed up. And should Bob Kahler, the Nebraska footballer, come up with a duplication of a recent feat, the Huskers may get some points they never dreamed of.

Against Iowa State, Kahler sailed over six feet even, to be the only jumper in the Big Six, besides Schnacke, to negotiate this height. Missouri's Miller, Hilton and Ducheck promise to bag some points for the Tigers in this event, however.

So there are the field events. Should the Huskers pick up the points they are capable, mean-

Sport Has Its Values to Nation's Boys

AMERICAN sports surely make more of a contribution to the things in life that are worth while than is appreciated by the average person. The boy who competes in this or that sport is doing something for himself beyond that of building a healthy body.

As a matter of fact, the boy's interest in and enthusiasm for athletics may prove to be an important factor in habit and character forming of incalculable benefit to him in the after years.

Scanning recent issue of a San Francisco newspaper I came across some intriguing comment by Sports Editor Bill Leiser about the experiences of Walter Mails, a former major league pitcher celebrity and now connected with the San Francisco Seals baseball club. I am here borrowing a couple paragraphs from the Leiser scribbles, as follows:

"WALTER went all through Nevada last year, talking to high school boys. He went up into Plumas county and talked about the value of basketball, six-man football, track and field, and everything but baseball.

"In fact, Walter never talks to high school student assemblies about baseball, or Seal baseball. He talks on the value of education, and the value of participation in athletics, any athletics.

"He'll tell you very seriously that he has conducted research in the state prisons, and has determined that not more than three per cent of the guests there participated as youngsters in football, baseball, basketball or track.

"And he concludes that the youngsters who participate in sports at an early age learn to take care of themselves, and learn a code of conduct which means something all through life."

All of which points a definite moral: Don't scold, don't complain if it seems that the boy perhaps is overzealous about his sports participation. Rather than that—but within reason, of course—give him encouragement. He'll be a better man for having been a normal, sports-loving boy.

Disputes Hutchins' Theories IF President Robert M. Hutchins, who has been slapping his own back ever since he brought about the abandonment of football at Chicago U., is looking for some one with whom to argue the question of the grid sport's proper place in education, he might, for instance, pick on President Hugh M. Tiner of fast-growing George Pepperdine college of Los Angeles.

The best coast educator is a firm believer in intercollegiate athletic competition, rating it as an important adjunct to an educational program.

Concerning the case of Chicago U., he points out that the educational standing of the university was just as high in the days when Maroon teams were Big Ten leaders as it is today with football abolished by President Hutchins' decree.

"Properly supervised and conducted," says President Tiner, "intercollegiate competition is as much a healthful part of our educational system of today as is study in the arts and sciences."

Splashes of PROFESSION A L baseball interest is enjoying a boom in the Pacific Coast Sport Here And There circuit... The San Francisco Seals recently played to two night crowds of 10,000 each and on the following Sunday performed in the presence of more than 19,000 paid patrons.

Marion DeJarnett, Jr., Lincoln boy now in pro baseball, apparently has tied up with a winner. The Springfield, Ill., club, for which Marion is holding down a garden station, is burning things up in the Three-Eye league... Herb Dana, Cornhusker end of more than 20 years ago, is at outs with the Pacific Coast intercollegiate conference... For the past several annuums, Herb was commissioner of officials, meaning that he assigned the whistle-blowers to football games... Last winter, when G-Man Atherton was named conference commissioner, Dana's duties were turned over to the new referee. A recent request by Atherton that Dana deliver all files, notes and records in his possession met with the reply there was nothing to turn over; that all files had been destroyed.

ing to perform at their best, total points column might swell sufficiently to allow the Weirmen to come along with a second successive conference title. Nobody can certainly know until after Saturday.

BENGALS PLOT BEAT HUSKERS

Missouri Aspires Grab Top Track Laurels In Big Six.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 6—Coach Chauncey Simpson of the University of Missouri can think of no more appropriate way to wind up the 1940 track season than with a victory in the Big Six meet Friday and Saturday at Lincoln.

However, he is willing to concede no more than an outside chance of doing so—mainly as the result of a powerful defending championship squad from Nebraska that also nosed the Tigers out of the indoor title.

Munksi's Last Appearance. The main chance of accomplishing this hinges on the piston-like legs of Captain John Munksi, who will be making his final bow in conference competition. Defending champion in the 880 and mile, Munksi probably will shift his talents to the mile and two-mile in the conference affair.

Marshall Reeves, the stubby little harrier from Charleston, probably will handle the 880 meter in satisfactory manner, as he has won in this distance for the past two years indoors but missed last season's outdoor affair, due to a leg injury. He will be supported in the half-mile by Louis Knight.

Extra Strong In Hurdles.

Missouri's main hopes for additional points in the track events are vested in the two hurdle events. Jimmy Johnson will be a threat for the title in both barrier races and other points should be contributed by John White, recently recovered from a pulled muscle, in the highs, and Ed Slaybaugh in the lows, provided he is sufficiently recovered from a leg injury to compete.

Walter St. Denis, Tom Nabors, Wilbert Berg and Clay Cooper in the 440 will round out the Tiger entries in the track competition.

A pair of second-place winners, Bob Waldram in the javelin and Sol Schumitzky in the broad jump, the Tigers a running start in the field events. Also, Dick Higgins should account for additional points in the javelin and Al Seidel should do the same in the broad jump. Higgins is also one of the favorites in the pole vault.
